Chinese New Year 2024

Usher in The Year of the Wood Dragon

The year 2024 will be the year of the Wood Dragon. In Chinese tradition, the element of Wood is known to be the element of growth, success, and initial years of development. It indicates a time for new starts, great beginnings, hard work, and power to further propel growth and prosperity.

The first day of Chinese new year begins from 10 February 2024, Saturday, and lasts for 15 days in total. The 15th day marks the first full moon after the New Year. Red is the dominant color during Chinese New Year. It is believed to bring good luck and ward off evil spirits.

Families have a reunion dinner on the eve of Chinese New Year and special dishes are prepared, each with its own symbolic meaning. Some food are chosen for their names or appearances, which resonates with good luck, prosperity, and happiness in the coming year.

Some of the many symbolic dishes here carry deep cultural significance:

Fish is an essential dish, and its name sounds similar to the Chinese word for surplus or abundance (余-yú). It symbolizes prosperity and wealth. A whole fish is often served to represent unity and completeness.

Tangerines and oranges are associated with luck and wealth because their names sound like "luck" (吉-jí) and "wealth" (财-cái). They are often displayed as decorations and offered as gifts.

Longevity Noodles (长寿面-chángshòu miàn): These long, uncut noodles represent a long and prosperous life. They are often served at birthday celebrations and, on Chinese New Year, symbolize good fortune for the coming year.

Come check out our Chinese New Year eve international buffet dinner at The Coffee Shop, located within Nirwana Resort Hotel, for a unique reunion dinner in paradise!

Saanvi Paramanik India

"Dear Nirwana garden's Manager,
I am Saanvi Paramanik. I lived in rooms 3122 & 3124 with my maternal grandma, my dad, my mom, my helper & my sister. We came on the 6th of October 2023 and this joy ends today sadly. But this nature given, care by your staff, the housing & etc, has made this holiday memorable. This was 5 stars this experience. The beach was soft like flour & the sea was clear compared to Singapore. The food was amazing and your staff treated us like family. Sadly, we have to go but I hope to come to this well-trusted hotel."

Siyona Paramanik India

"Hello Manager,
Thank you for taking good care of us. The food was super yummy and the staff was very nice. Sadly my family is leaving today. We are the Paramanik family. My sister might have also given you too. My name is Siyona. We loved staying here. I hope i can come again.
Thanks for taking care of us, to all the staff!"

Indian Cuisine at a Picturesque Seafront Setting

Spice Restaurant is Moving to a New Home!

Our Spice restaurant has gotten a menu revamp and will soon be moving to its new home; previously the Hot Pot & Asian Grill restaurant near the entrance of Indra Maya Pool Villas.

Imagine a charming restaurant nestled on a private beach; where the gentle sound of waves breaking against the shore provides a soothing backdrop to your dining experience. As you step onto the outdoor patio, you're immediately captivated by the panoramic views of the azure ocean stretching out to the horizon. The sea breeze carries a hint of salt, mingling with the tantalizing aromas of spice wafting from the kitchen.

Your journey into the tastes of India begins with a menu that showcases the rich tapestry of flavours and spices conjured by our new Senior Chef from India, Chef Mohan. We caught up with him to find out more:

Staff Feature - Senior Indian Chef, Mohan Bagiyal

Chef Mohan Bagiyal, our new Chef for Spice Restaurant, was born and raised in Dehradun, Uttarakhand, India. At the age of 22, he embarked on his gastronomic journey in the hotel industry, igniting his passion for the culinary arts. Mohan's upbringing in a family that cherished culinary delights became the cornerstone of his passion and love for the rich heritage of Indian cuisine. His expedition into the culinary world took him across various countries, including Singapore, South Africa, and Dubai, where he honed his skills and acquired diverse culinary influences.

Fueled by his roots and a strong appreciation for his cultural heritage, he is now to weave his culinary magic at our Spice Restaurant. Here's a glimpse of Mohan's culinary vision from our short interview:

Q: What can our guests look forward to your leadership?

I will expand Spice Restaurant's menu to make it really showcase the true Indian flavours. When I first got here, I saw a lot of potential and room for improvement. I also read some of the guest comments, and even talked to them, and from that, I immediately knew what dishes needed to be added or enhanced.

Q: How do you spend your free time?

Usually, I'll go back to my room and talk to my family through video calls. I also sometimes scroll through Facebook & Instagram

Q: What are your go-to favourite Indian dishes?

I love Chicken Tika Masala, and also Kebabs because there are a lot of variations to it.

Q: Last but not least, what are some new dishes that you intend to introduce to the menu?

Definitely Biryani and not just one kind of it, there's going to be Lamb Biryani, Fish Biryani, and Chicken Biryani. Also Chicken and Vegetable Tika Masala, Manchurian, and of course Naan Bread, in cheese and garlic variations. Oh, and Chicken 65 too.

Spot Rare Birds in Nirwana Gardens!

Birdwatching has been one of the most underrated activities that's both fun and relaxing. Here at Nirwana Gardens, we have 330 hectares of land comprising of 5 accommodations, lush greenery and white powdery sand beaches. Take a walk inside our vicinity and spot beautiful, and some rare, species of Riau Island birds!

For those who prefer the indoors, there's always "Jungle Bird", our December cocktail available at Dino Bistro, The Deli Café, Spice Restaurant, Mayang Sari Beach Hut, Kelong Seafood Restaurant & Calypso Floating Bar.

Jungle Bird

Bacardi, Campari and Orange Juice

IDR 175++

Prices listed are presented in thousand rupiah ('000')

Brahminy Kite

(Helang-Tembikar Merah)

This Kite feeds primarily on fish and is often found around coastal areas and sites near waterbodies. Adults resemble the Bald Eagle and has a rather amusing call, like a baby. The Brahminy Kite is mostly found in the Indian subcontinent, Southeast Asia and as far as East Australia.

Purple Heron

(Pucung Serandau)

This large bird is a common resident near lakes and lagoons with dense vegetation, as its favourite meals include small fish, crustaceans and small reptiles like snakes and lizards. It feeds primarily during dusk and dawn, so do look out for them during these times if you wish to take a good shot.

Long-tailed Parakeet

(Bayan Melayu)

The parakeets are common favourites by avid birdwatchers due to their striking ensemble of colours. Its current conservation status is "Vulnerable" due to its decreasing population and habitat destruction caused by deforestation. Often found in lowland forests, gardens and parks, it is also a frequent visitor to fruit-bearing trees.

Greater Racket-tailed Drongo

(Cecawi Anting-anting Besar)

This unique, medium-sized bird is easily distinguished from other birds with its elongated outer tail feathers with webbing restricted to the tips and their loud calls with wide range of vocalizations. They feed mainly on insects, fruits and nectar and are often seen perching on higher and exposed branches in forests and parks.

Chestnut-bellied Malkoha

(Cenuk Perut Coklat)

This "Near-threatened" member of the Cuckoo family has a distinctive orange cheek and greenish bill. Its population is also threatened due to habitat loss. For a chance to find them, check out areas with fruit-bearing trees, seeds and leaf buds. They will only lay eggs in the nests they've built themselves and never in another bird's nest.

Common Kingfisher

(Rajaudang Cicit)

Often seen perching around The Kelong Seafood Restaurant in Nirwana Gardens, this eye-catching bird knows where to find fresh and wild baitfish, its main diet. Usually no more than 18 centimetres in length, it can consume fish up to 12.5cm long, but also eats insects, larvae and freshwater shrimp.
